BATTLE OF ATLANTIC SUNDAY

Sunday was Battle of Atlantic Sunday across Canada, and navy veterans and members of the Navy League of Canada celebrated the event in special services. In some communities, wreath placing ceremonies were held in conjunction with special church services. In Kelowna, a drumhead service, in which drums are placed in a triangle to form an altar, was held in the City Park Oval. Here the drummers march onto the turf to place their drums in the triangle. L. R. Fletcher, president of the Kelowna branch of the NLC presided over the service. About 60 people watched the event.

Upon completion of the service, cadets marched past the saluting base on the track where Lieut. George Poitras, cadet commanding officer, took the salute. See story page 3A.—(Courier Photo)

Airliner Plunges Into Sea 41 Survive, 21 Missing

SAN JUAN (CP-AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard kept up its search today for 21 persons, including a Toronto man, missing when a jet airliner went down in the Caribbean Saturday during a driving rainstorm.

Three Canadians were among the 41 known survivors. One person is dead. Most of the passengers were tourists.

The missing Canadian was identified as Charles S. Phillips, 32, president of the Toronto accounting firm of Charles S. Phillips and Co. His wife, Margaret, 42, was reported in fair condition in hospital at St. Croix, where she is being treated for exposure.

Two other Canadian survivors, Winston Evans, 28, and his wife Wilma were rescued and suffered only slight injuries. Evans was highly critical of the life-saving equipment aboard the plane and said he believed the ditching of the airliner could have been avoided.

There was speculation that the 21 missing had gone to the bottom with the plane's fuselage. But a coast guard spokesman said: "We're not giving up on the missing."

The DC-9, leased by the Dutch

Antillean Airline from Overseas National Airways, was bound from New York to St. Martin, in the Leeward Islands 200 miles west of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

HAD CLEARANCE

Evans said the aircraft had clearance to land at St. Croix in the Virgin Islands, but the pilot apparently chose not to land.

Evans said the jetliner also had an option to refuel in Bermuda, but did not stop over.

And he criticized the rescue equipment as inadequate.

"The lifejackets were only flotation collars and mine kept on deflating,"

Evans said only one life raft was available.

Evans in an interview from hospital at St. Croix said:

"We had one life raft for the whole plane. It was big enough for two people to lie on their sides—the size of a double bed."

"There were 28 people hanging on to the sides," Evans said. Their flight was to have landed in St. Martin at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, but a tropical storm ended any such move.

"We were still going at twenty to four," he said. "We had approached the runway five times, but always at right angles because of the storm."

"We saw a fire truck on one of our passes and we knew something was wrong."

"Still there was no announcement. At about 17 or 18 minutes to four, we were told to put on our life jackets as a precautionary measure because we were running low on fuel. We hit the water at 12 minutes to four."

"Some people never had a chance. . . . The plane seemed to burst apart." Passengers in front seats "just took off."

Tenders Soon For Mission Penitentiary

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government is calling tenders this year to begin construction of a prison development at Mission, B.C., which will include a $7,000,000 maximum security penitentiary, the solicitor general's department said today.

Construction of the maximum security institution is planned to start in April, 1972, and will be completed in June, 1974. It will replace the B.C. penitentiary at New Westminster.

A minimum security institution at Mission, costing $800,000, is planned for completion in October, 1971. Roads, sewers, water, heating plants and a central services building are also scheduled to be started this year.

Moslems March On Parliament

KABUL (AP) — Several thousand white-turbaned Moslem mullahs and their followers, crying "Death to communism" and "Allah is our god," marched on the Afghan parliament today.

White Truck Assembly Slowing Teamsters Halt Parts Supply

Parts shortages caused by a Teamsters strike in the United States continue to plague the White Truck assembly plant on Highway 97.

A spokesman for the firm, which employs 80 to 100 men, said employees were laid off today and Tuesday and would return to work Wednesday.

The plant will operate only three days then close for one full week and at this time plans to re-open for a week.

The plant was recently re-opened after a nine-day lay-off April 20.

The spokesman said deliveries are badly hampered by the parts shortages and even when open, the firm employs only a partial crew for clean-up and limited production.

Other firms in the Interior and on the coast have felt the affect of the strike which has stopped almost all shipment of U.S. produced parts; some have apparently ceased production completely.

The White Truck official said operating plans are tentative and subject to conditions across the border.

Even immediate settlement of the strike would not head off some of the planned lay-offs, he added.

Seven Fatalities Reported In B.C. During The Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least seven persons died accidentally in British Columbia during the weekend, including three teenagers in a fiery car crash.

Earl Harris, Darlene Edey and Kathy Croft, all of the Vancouver suburb of Delta, were killed Saturday when the car in which they were riding hit a power pole and burst into flames in Ladang.

Frederick Vanichuk, 50, of Powell River was killed Friday night when his car collided with a lumber carrier on a company logging road at MacMillan Bloedel's Powell River division, about 75 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Stock Market Drops

Major North American stock markets fell today when investors' anxiety built up over Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin's news conference on the Indo-China situation.

On Wall Street, the Dow-Jones industrial index dropped 10.49 points to 723.13 by 11:30 a.m. trading was light.

Markets began falling this morning after Premier Kosygin announced he would hold a news conference.

Toronto was down in most sectors. Losses outnumbered gains by more than four to one in light trading.

At Montreal, the market fell lower with industrials and banks leading the decline.

Premier Kosygin condemned United States military operations in Cambodia in his statement.

He said the Soviet Union will "draw the appropriate conclusions" from the United States' action in Cambodia.

Russia Will Re-Examine Its Aid To North Vietnam

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin accused President Nixon today of betraying "the American people and the world" by sending United States troops into Cambodia.

He said the president "should have weighed the consequences" to American-Soviet relations before authorizing such a move.

The Soviet leader told a news conference the Soviet Union will re-examine its military aid commitments to North Vietnam in the light of the latest events and "will inform North Vietnam of our decision."

The Soviet leader suggested indirectly that the Cambodian events and the new U.S. bombing of North Vietnam could have a bad effect on the Vietnam peace talks in Paris and that it would make a Geneva conference on Indochina less likely.

"Now, we feel that this is not the time for conferences, but for action to stop the aggression," he said, adding that the same applied to the question of whether or not the International Control Commission—consisting of Canada, Poland and India—should be reconvened on Cambodia.

He accused Nixon of the "crudest arbitrariness" in his Vietnam policy. He said this contradicted the president's avowed beliefs before and after the presidential election.

"To the heavy responsibility borne by the United States for the war against the Vietnamese people is added a responsibility for the aggression it committed against the people of Cambodia," Kosygin said in a formal statement.

"It goes without saying that the Soviet government will draw appropriate conclusions for its policy from such a line of action by the United States in Southeast Asia."

TALKS IMPOSSIBLE

Kosygin appeared to attempt to rally the Communist world against the American campaign in Southeast Asia when he said that "all states which hold dear the interests of peace and freedom . . . must display a high sense of responsibility for the further course of events and a determination to contribute toward repelling the aggressor."

He indicated it would be impossible to have a Geneva conference on the Indochina situation in circumstances such as now exist. The Soviet Union and Britain are co-chairmen of the Geneva conferences of 1954 and 1962 and would have to agree if a new one were to be called.

"Is it possible to talk seriously of the desire of the U.S. president to take fruitful negotiations to solve ripe international problems at a time when the United States is grossly trampling underfoot the Geneva agreements of 1954 and 1962, to which it is a party, and takes ever new actions undermining the mainstays of international security?"

"What is the worth of international agreements in which the United States is taking part or is going to take part, if it violates so unceremoniously the commitments it has assumed?"

Kosygin's statement contained a suggestion that the Cambodian events and the new bombing of North Vietnam by U.S. planes might have a serious effect on the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

"By launching the war in Cambodia and resuming large-scale barbarous bombings of populated localities in North Vietnam, President Nixon actually nullifies the decision of his predecessor, President Johnson, on the termination from November, 1968, of all air bombings and other actions involving the use of force against North Vietnam."

"It was the termination of the bombing which led to the expansion of the peace talks to include the Viet Cong and South Vietnam. North Vietnam and the United States had been talking fruitfully in Paris since May, 1968."

Kosygin said: "If the U.S. government really cared to save from death tens of hundreds and thousands of Americans, there is and always has been a very simple way out, and this is not to send American soldiers either to Vietnam or to Cambodia or to Laos, and to send them back home."

Military Situation Appears Deteriorating In Cambodia

PHNOM PENH (Reuters) — The military situation in Cambodia appeared to be deteriorating rapidly today with Communist command troops in control of points on both sides of the Mekong River and thrusting toward Phnom Penh, the capital.

The Mekong, which runs from north to south through Cambodia, separates the eastern 20 per cent of the country, where United States and South Vietnamese government troops are fighting, from the rest of the country.

The Viet Cong guerrillas from South Vietnam, who seized an east-bank ferry crossing at Neak Leung Sunday, were reported today to be holding the west-bank village of Koki Thom.

Both points control Highway 1, which runs from Phnom Penh to South Vietnam.

More than 2,000 Cambodians who had been fighting with American-led special forces in South Vietnam have flown into Phnom Penh in the last few nights.

The government is understood to be hoping for another 8,000 of the well-trained soldiers. But their rate of deployment is not known and observers questioned whether they could arrive in time if the Viet Cong decided on an all-out drive on the capital.

COULD CRIPPLE THE PROVINCE

B.C. Tugboat Men Go On Strike

VANCOUVER (CP) — About 1,200 tugboat masters, mates and engineers went on strike Sunday, shutting down the British Columbia tugboat industry and adding to the growing labor unrest in the province.

Members of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild took to the picket lines after weekend talks between the guild and the B.C. Tugboat Owners' Association under federal mediators William Kelly and Don Tysse, failed to resolve key issues in the union's contract demands.

Union members earlier voted 78 per cent in favor of a strike and 84 per cent for rejection of a federal conciliation board award.

Arne Davis, chief negotiator for the guild, said talks failed to make any headway on their demand to have the key issues of manning, safety and towboat accommodation negotiated into the contract.

Dick Mahoney, chief negotiator for the owners, said these issues should be settled outside of contract negotiations.

"In view of the strike action and in view of the position of the negotiating committee of the guild, which in our opinion has not changed since negotiations commenced more than 10 months ago, the operators see no way in which further talks at this time would be of any value," Mr. Mahoney said.

The issues are still being discussed among representatives of the guild, the operators and the transport department—Independent of the contract negotiations. Guild secretary Cecil Rhodes said Mr. Mahoney's proposal that the manning and safety issues be removed from the talks because the operators agree with the transport department report was not acceptable.

A federal government report on the B.C. tugboat industry was released two weeks ago and says 90 per cent of west coast tugboats and half the men who man them are constantly exposed to unsatisfactory and dangerous conditions.

The report is critical of working conditions, inadequate living conditions on vessels and badly or inadequately trained crews operating in conditions of carelessness condoned by masters.

Guild members want some of these conditions remedied by specific clauses in a new contract.

Union spokesmen said Sunday it would take a few days for the towboat shutdown to be effective as boats now at sea will not be struck until they reach port.

Earlier, spokesmen for the B.C. forest industry expressed fear that such action would close 50 per cent of the province's coastal forest products mills within 30 days.

Mr. Rhodes said earlier "a strike in the tugboat industry would cripple the province . . . and have a serious effect on the economy and create unemployment in all industry."

In addition to better working conditions, guild members are seeking $200 a month across-the-board increase on rates that range now from $543 to $980.

21,000 Finish Vancouver's Miles For Millions Walk

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sunburn was added to the blistered feet and aching limbs Sunday as about 30,000 marchers took part in Vancouver's Miles-For-Millions Walk.

Organizers expressed disappointment at the turnout. They had expected up to 50,000 for the 25-mile trek in temperatures which reached the low 70s.

About 21,000 walkers went the full distance and organizers said they expected about $20,000 of the 33,000 starters finished the walk and raised more than $350,000 for voluntary aid projects in 20 countries.

Walk organizers said the turnout was lower because of a number of similar walks in the Lower Mainland area and because the Sun and Province, Vancouver's daily newspapers, had not been publishing for the last two-and-a-half months and could not provide advance publicity.

Federal Fisheries Minister Jack Davis, who completed the 25-mile course in two previous marches, was sponsored this year by Prime Minister Trudeau and five cabinet ministers.

Senator Paul Martin, James Richardson, minister of supplies and services, External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp, Veterans Affairs Minister Jean Dube and Public Works Minister Arthur Laing also pledged support for Mr. Davis' walk.

In the Fraser Valley community of Chilliwack, Walter Wakeley, chairman of the local marathon, said about 1,400 residents helped raise about $17,000, finishing the 23-mile course.

Prime Minister Eric Williams warned Sunday that the emergency in Trinidad is not over in his first nationwide radio and television speech to the people since a state of emergency was declared April 21.

Williams said: "No democratically elected government can, after the challenge of armed revolution that we have passed through, evade its responsibility for seeking to protect citizens of the country against a recurrence of this threat."

"But to say they deliberately set out to undermine his administration is wholly untrue."

Dr. Benjamin Spock, war critic and pediatrician, was arrested with at least 76 other persons Sunday when they conducted a religious service in a park across from the White House to protest the movement of U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Hollanders Join Canadians At Groesbeek War Cemetery

THE HAGUE (CP) — More than 5,000 Hollanders joined Canada Sunday in honoring Canadians who died 25 years ago in the liberation of their country.

Led by Ottawa-born Princess Margriet, they journeyed to the Canadian war cemetery at Groesbeek for an hour of remembrance with a Canadian delegation led by Veterans Affairs Minister Jean-Eudes Dube and detachments from the Canadian Forces in West Germany.

It was the only distinctive Canadian ceremony in the four days of public events commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Canadians' liberation of the Dutch from the German occupation throughout this little country of 6,000,000.

Hundreds of ceremonies recall the significance of those days and members of Dube's party will attend some. But Sunday was Canada's day, packing an emotional wallop to those with friends and comrades lying under the 2,336 Canadian headstones in their tidy rows and providing the Dutch who cared chance to pray for their eternal rest in peace.

Young Cadet Injured Near Enderby

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Robert Hay, 11, an army cadet from Revelstoke, B.C., was in critical condition in hospital here Sunday with injuries suffered Saturday when a Canadian Forces truck in which he was riding left a highway and overturned near the North Okanagan community of Enderby.

WALKATHON HELD — CRANBROOK (CP) — About 1,000 persons turned out Sunday to participate in a Lions Club 25-mile walkathon to raise money for a new library and swimming pool in this Kootenay district community. Organizers hoped to raise $50,000.

PROTEST HELD — VANCOUVER (CP) — A group of about 60 persons demonstrated at the United States Consulate General Saturday against American action in Cambodia. Their placards also called for an end to Canadian complicity in Vietnam.

QUEEN CROWNED — FALKLAND (CP) — Officials of the Falkland Stampede Saturday crowned Penny Riddle as queen of the annual event in this community about 40 miles southeast of Kamloops. Miss Riddle will reign over the Stampede May 17 and 18.

VOTE YES — SMITHERS (CP) — Ratepayers in School District 54 of this north central British Columbia community voted 81 per cent Saturday in favor of a $155,000 building of a five-classroom addition to a primary school.

Youths Rescued As Raft Collapses

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP) — Three Vancouver youths were rescued Sunday after their home made raft came apart in the south arm of the Fraser River near this Vancouver suburb.

Rik Gallicano and Ed Coughman, both 17, and Leon Minsky, 15, were spotted hanging onto debris in the chilly water by a pleasure boat captain. They were brought ashore safely.

TONGUE TWISTER — LARKFIELD, England (CP) — Maud Jelly, 72, used her most effective weapon to drive four thieves out of her Kent home — her nagging tongue. They tied up Mrs. Jelly and her 68-year-old husband, but she lashed them with hard words for an hour until they left with only £74 (£197) in cash.

Navy Remembers Atlantic Battle

They remembered their fallen comrades and recalled the ships lost at sea during the Second World War.

Sunday was the annual celebration of Battle of Atlantic Sunday and 100 cadets from the Kelowna branch of the Navy League of Canada marched from the armory to the City Park Oval where a drum head service was held in warm sunshine.

The scene, similar to that of other ceremonies held across Canada, remembered the five-and-a-half year struggle in the North Atlantic between the Allies and Nazi Germany.

The struggle for supremacy of the shipping lanes in the Atlantic, has been described by some historians as one of the fiercest battles ever staged during the Second World War.

Across Canada special services, many including church services, commemorated the memories of the men and women who served in the Royal Canadian Navy and the Merchant Marine.

In the city, the cadets, accompanied by a color party and drum band, marched from the armory down Lawrence Avenue to the grandstand oval where L. R. Fletcher, president of the Kelowna branch of the NLC, presided.

About 50 persons witnessed the event from the grandstands. Upon completion of the drum head service, in which the altar was constructed of the drums, the cadets and their officers marched past the reviewing stand on the oval track where Lieut. George Poitras, commanding officer of the local navy corps took the salute.

With him was Capt. Jeff Bridges, commanding officer of the air cadets. Mr. Bridges served a dual capacity, one as the representative of the air cadets, and the second as a father.

Two of his sons are members of the cadet corps.

After the march past the boys returned to the armory where the ladies' auxiliary had prepared a lunch for them.

The afternoon was devoted to recreation activities, which included sailing.

As of today, the Kelowna branch is preparing for its annual inspection May 25. Rear Admiral H. A. Porter, commander Pacific Command, Esquimalt, will inspect cadets in the armories.

Admiral Porter will become commander of Maritime Command in late June and be promoted to vice-admiral.

READY FOR FESTIVAL PARTICIPANTS

Ald. Richard Stewart, left, examines with Don Benson, field representative for the B.C. Sports Federation, some awards Kelowna area athletes will receive during the B.C.

Festival of Sports, May 16 to June 1. Mr. Benson brought a travelling team of sports federation officials to Kelowna Saturday to leave behind the medals, ribbons and certificates. He is handing Ald. Stewart one of the certificates that each participating athlete will be awarded for taking part in the festival. (Courier Photo)

Sport Festival Ready To Roll

Kelowna is now set to award its top athletes during the B.C. Festival of Sports events here.

Dan Benson, field representative of the B.C. Sports Federation, was here Saturday to present city council with medals, awards and certificates to be given out later this month as B.C. honors its sportsmen.

Several other B.C. Sports Federation representatives were with Mr. Benson on his tour. Ald. Richard Stewart, in charge of local festival preparations, received the awards.

All who compete in the festival will receive a certificate marking their contribution. Winners will receive gold, silver or bronze medals, Olympic fashion. For other top place athletes there will be cloth badges for competing.

Mr. Benson said enthusiasm for the two weeks of sports in the province is high. "In general, the B.C. Festival of Sports promises for more success than anyone ever conceived at the beginning."

In Kelowna, the major sporting event will be the Knox Mountain Hillclimb, May 17. Mr.

Benson said the event is generating "tremendous interest" in B.C. and other provinces, as well as the United States.

Another international sporting event for Kelowna will be an English rugby team here May 23 to play an exhibition game with a B.C. representative team.

Three provincial events are also on Kelowna's sports calendar for the festival — a B.C. Open pistol championship shoot, May 24; the provincial trap shooting finals, May 29 to 31; and the Blossom Time Sailing Regatta, on the holiday weekend.

Five and 10 pin bowlers will compete here for region finals May 16 to 18, then move to Vernon for the provincial finals May 23 and 24.

An exhibition lacrosse tour and Okanagan lawn bowling tournament both begin May 16, the lawn bowling continuing to May 31. Zone eliminations for tennis will also be here May 22 to 30.

Elsewhere in the Okanagan, sports will range from canoeing to wheelchair events. Penticton will sponsor the provincial Olympic trials for wheelchair sports May 15 to 18, as well as the interior golf tournament May 16 to 31. For local events the city has bowling, lawn bowling, soccer and tennis on its list.

Golf and tennis are on the calendar for Summerland.

B.C. swimmers will vie with the Alberta aquatic experts in Vernon May 16 and 17 for that city's leading sports event. An invitation golf tournament, the Chinook Open will be held May 17 and 18.

Vernon will also see lacrosse and lawn bowling activity.

Nearly 200,000 B.C. athletes will take part in sporting events in more than 60 communities.

Pioneer Insurance Man Dies Funeral Services Wednesday

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from St. Paul's United Church for Charles Marvyn DeMara, 69, of Apt. 504, 1938 Pandosy St., who died Saturday in Kelowna General Hospital.

Mr. DeMara was born in Toronto, Jan. 18, 1901, spent his childhood in Calgary before moving to Kelowna with his family in 1916, where they homesteaded on the KLO Road.

In his earlier days, he was employed by the Dominion Express Co., and later worked for Mason and Risch Music Co.

In 1923, he entered the insurance business with his father, the late A. Herbert DeMara. His oldest son Bob joined the firm in 1945, and his younger son, Monty, joined the firm in 1958. The firm is known today as DeMara and Sons Insurance Agencies.

Mr. DeMara was married in June, 1924, to Marjorie F. Leckie, a member of another pioneer family. She died in February, 1967.

In August, 1968, he married former Mrs. Katherine Collins, of Whittier, Calif.

He was a member of the Kelowna Jaycees, and served on the directorship of the Kelowna Aquatic Association for many years.

Mr. DeMara served with the Kelowna Fire Brigade for 26 years, and was a director and secretary of the department during his years as a volunteer on the brigade.

He was also an active member of the Kelowna Gyro Club for 22 years, and since 1962 has been an associate member.

He was particularly active in sports in his youth and was involved in the Kelowna Bowling Club, and also was manager of the Kelowna basketball teams in the 1920s and '30s.

CHARLES DEMARA ... dead at 69

He was an avid outdoorsman and a long-time member of the Kelowna Fish and Game Association.

In addition, he was a member of the Kelowna Yacht Club and the Kelowna Men's Club.

Honorary pallbearers will be George Handlen, Dr. Gordon Wilson, Dick Parkinson, Andy C. Manson, Fred Gore, Harold Armeane, Ron Fraser, John Beale, Jack Hawksworth and James Brodie.

Rev. John Davidson will officiate at the service with burial in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Day's Funeral Service is in charge of the arrangements.

SEEN and HEARD

A sure sign of the impending rush of tourists is the speed limit lowering along Lakeshore Road. Highway crews replaced the 40 mph signs with 30 mph regulations Saturday on the section of Lakeshore from KLO Road to near Trussell Road. The 30 mph limit is normally in effect from early May until late September.

Teen-agers are always among the first people to react to the arrival of warmer temperatures. After waiting patiently for several weeks for steady 60 and 70 degree weather, the area's youth broke out their summer clothes today and the scene on the way to school was one of the most colorful in years. New fashions and bright colors indicate a banner season for girl-watchers.

The Kelowna and District Jaycees have set the target date for their new maps of the vicinity as May 21. Bob Salis, chairman of the map committee, says the maps are currently at the printers and the Jaycees hope the maps will be on the market by that date.

Hot weather at lower levels doesn't mean spring prevails at all altitudes. Proof of this was seen on Highway 33 past the Big White turn-off Sunday, where two girls in shorts were having a roadside snowball fight.

Howling toms are enough to make anyone turn to desperate measures, but recently in a north end subdivision a sleepless resident introduced a new feature to cat chasing. After unsuccessfully hurling water and shouting at the noisy felines he suddenly burst through his back door armed with a sword and sent the cats fleeing into the night.

Mrs. Margaret Vohlt Ediger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Voght, 1860 Pandosy St., was among 280 senior students honored at the 72nd annual commencement exercises of Goshen College, Goshen, Ind., April 19. A 1951 graduate of Kelowna Secondary School, Mrs. Ediger fulfilled all requirements for a BA degree in Spanish in August.

Kenneth D. Reimche, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Reimche, 111 S. Kelowna, has been named to the dean's list for the winter quarter at Andrew's University, Berrien Springs, Mich. He is a senior business major. To be eligible for the dean's list, a student must have a minimum grade point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale and carry a minimum of 12 credits with no grade below a B and no incomplete grades.

Forestry Week Observed Here

This is National Forest Week across Canada, sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association. For the rest of this week the Courier will publish items illustrating and highlighting activities and objectives of the association, both in B.C. and across the country.

Another fire control course will be held in the Okanagan next spring, marking the fifth time the fire-fighting program has been conducted in the Southern Interior.

The announcement was made at the annual meeting of the Southern Interior Region of the Canadian Forestry Association of British Columbia at Penticton last week. The course attracts forest industry men from all parts of the Interior on instruction in the latest fire-fighting techniques and preventive methods. Elected president at the meeting was E. L. Underhill of Federated Co-operative Sawmill Ltd., Canoe, with H. Mayson, Colgar Ltd., woods division, Nakusp, named vice-chairman.

Local representatives elected to the directorship for a one-year term were: Wayne Jarvis of S. M. Simpson Ltd., division of Crown Zellerbach Canada Ltd., Kelowna and Harold Hildred of Interior Logging Association, Kelowna.

Re-elected to the directorship was Alan Moss, consulting forester, with W. P. T. McGhee of S. M. Simpson Ltd., division of Crown Zellerbach Canada Ltd., remaining as standing director.

Other agenda business included announcement of another "skogdag" or forestry field day in the Cranbrook area in the fall of 1971. Crestbrook Forest Industries Ltd., Cranbrook, has indicated its support of the mobile logging show to be held on its wood lands. Also announced were plans for two one-week Junior Forest Warden youth camps at Rock Lake in the East Kootenay for wardens of that area, as well as a new campsite at Silver Lake near Peachland for Okanagan forest wardens.

CLOUDY skies are forecast for Kelowna and the Okanagan Tuesday. Winds should be light, rising at times to southerly 15. Saturday's high was 71, the overnight low was 39 and no precipitation was recorded. Sunday's high and overnight low were 75 and 37. No precipitation was registered. Low tonight and high Tuesday should be 40 and 70.

The forestry association reminds that Sunday to May 9 is National Forest Week across Canada, the purpose of which is to draw attention to developments in forestry and to urge Canadians to take care in the preservation of valuable timber lands. The occasion is also to remind the travelling public of the need for more care while travelling as well as to focus awareness on good forest management, guarantee wood products, outdoor recreation and other forest benefits on a continuing basis.

As sponsors of National Forest Week, the Canadian Forestry Association urges the public to personally participate by planting a tree, cleaning picnic sites, taking special care while travelling in forests or learning more about how forest land must be managed to satisfy the needs of Canadians. Just how important forest care is needed is exemplified in last year's statistics, where 2,300 fires in the province decimated 407,000 acres, representing a financial loss of $3,300,000. Of this total, $1,110,000 occurred in the Kamloops forest district (of which the Kelowna ranger district is part) through 884 fires, which destroyed 37,291 acres of timber land. Last year, local ranger station personnel extinguished 41 fires, with a loss of about 270 acres, and so far this year there has been two fires in the Duck Lake and Westbank areas, due to careless burning and high winds.

LARGE DISTRICT The Kelowna ranger district extends from Winfield to Peachland, west to Penticton and east to Greystokes Mountain. Now situated at the new location near Kelowna Airport, the local ranger station is headed by ranger Frank Pearce, personnel includes a deputy ranger, two assistant forest rangers, one despatcher, one forest assistant and three lookout men. The new facilities also incorporate on-site air charter and air tanker base operations. Besides Black Knight and Terrace Mountain lookout points, the station has added Little White Mountain to its vigilance roster.

In addition to support from the Kelowna ranger station personnel, National Forest Week will also get a helping hand from junior forest wardens who will distribute Smokey Bear posters and bumper stickers.

Builders Planning

Details on the upcoming May 14 and 15, 1970 provincial convention of the National House Builders' Association, British Columbia Council, are still being worked out by the Kelowna branch.

KLT Drama Gets Citation

Although the Kelowna Little Theatre's production of Briget Brophy's The Waste Disposal Unit, failed to win top place in the Okanagan Zone drama festival Friday and Saturday, the production did get a citation of merit for best direction.

The award was presented to William Bennett, who directed the one-act Kelowna submission which included local cast members Ronald McKeogh, Nic Caljouw, Rosemary Shuster, Edie Walker and Wayne Alexander. The best play award went to the Kamloops Players for its production of Harold Pinter's The Lover, which will compete in the British Columbia finals in Vernon June 3 to 6.

Third Fire For District

A fire which burned through 50 acres of the Westbank Indian Reserve, is now under control, reports local range, Frank Pearce.

The blaze was first reported Saturday evening and was described by Mr. Pearce as "not much of a problem," apart from loss of timber land. The fire is the first blaze this year and began Friday. Two other fires in April were located in the Duck Lake and Westbank areas. The forest fire hazard rating is designated as low by local ranger station personnel.

Band Concert 'Crowd' Slim

A disappointing crowd of 60 people turned out Sunday for the first concert of the Kelowna City Band in the Community Theatre.

Lyle Bassett, band president, said he couldn't understand why the band received such a poor turnout.

"We did everything on our part. Maybe the warm weather affected the attendance," he said.

The 30-member band received a $3,200 grant from the city to provide instruments, uniforms and music, on condition the band register under the B.C. Societies Act, which has been done.

Prairie Funeral For G. G. Paul

Funeral services will be held Wednesday in Moose Jaw, Sask., for George Gordon Paul, 75, of 845 Kennedy St., who died Saturday.

He is survived by one son, Clive, of Kelowna, and three grandchildren, two brothers, Clarence, of Calgary, and Russell, of High River, and one sister, Marguerite (Mrs. M. Brown) of Waterloo, Ont.

Interment will be in Moose Jaw. Day's Funeral Service is in charge of the arrangements.

Dance Team Here Tonight

The final concert in the current series for Jeuneuses Musicales will be held today in the Kelowna Community Theatre at 7:30 p.m.

Tonight's concert will feature Vancouver's Western Dance Theatre, under the direction of Vancouver choreographer Norbert Vesak. The theatre company is Canada's newest major modern dance troupe and is touring the province.

Students from Kelowna district schools attended two concerts earlier today.

A dance workshop will be held Tuesday in the Kelowna Central School gymnasium at 4 p.m.

The troupe will return to Vancouver for its final performance May 24 in the Queen Elizabeth Theatre.

Lynn Seymour, currently on a European tour, will be the featured performance in the Vancouver production.

One Month Sentence

Robert Collinson, Kelowna, was sentenced Friday to one month in jail for selling LSD.

The youth appeared before provincial court Judge G. S. Denroche in Penticton for sentencing. The charge was laid under the Summary Convictions Act, with a maximum sentence of three months for such a charge.

Folk Scene Is Mediocre

By DOUG MACDONALD
Courier Staff

Folk music seems to have been lost in the electronic shuffle; Kelowna's Folk Festival 70 Saturday was a mixed bag of amplified rock and little folk.

The local talent proved mediocre, with rare glimmers of genius during the six-hour marathon festival. Probably the most professional performers were the Centurions, a gospel-folk group with a smooth style.

Low point of the program was Joe Fae, a singer who was actually laughed at during one song. His music was competent but uninspired.

Dennis Cooper, the Slobodan Sisters, Clair Kujundzic and several others presented a variety of music, all of it enjoyable.

The evening was brought to a weird end by the Broken Arrow Blues Band, a collection of musicians recently met who styled their music "spasmodic folk blues."

No Problem With Mails

Kelowna mail delivery remains unaffected by a slowdown of letter carriers in Vancouver.

W. J. Burgess, postmaster, said normal shipments of mail arrived in Kelowna today and as yet his office has received no complaints from citizens.

"We usually hear right away if there is some kind of delay," Mr. Burgess said.

OC's First Grads Honored Tonight

City Store Clamps Down On Shoplifters, Forgers

A local chain store is clamping down on shoplifters and forgers.

A Kelowna youth who attempted to use a forged credit card at the Woolworth store Thursday was in court today. Steven J. Moonen pleaded guilty to attempting to use a forged document and was remanded for two weeks while a pre-sentence report is prepared.

Court was told Moonen found an unsigned credit card on the street, forged a signature, then attempted to purchase two speakers valued at $120 with the card. Woolworth employees became "suspicious" and the youth was arrested.

Bail was set at a surety of $1,000.

Another Kelowna youth pleaded guilty to stealing two watches from the same store Friday. Donovan Hack was remanded in custody to May 12 while probation officers report on his violation of probation from an earlier conviction.

Bail of $250 cash was set for Thomas A. Haire, Kelowna, who reserved plea today on a charge of obtaining lodgings by means of a worthless cheque. He will appear for trial May 12.

Charges of willful damage, obstructing a police officer and causing a public disturbance by shouting were laid today against Joseph P. Yarama, Kelowna. He pleaded not guilty to willful damage and will face trial later today. Yarama pleaded guilty to the other two charges and was remanded while a pre-sentence report is prepared.

Larry Joseph Gibeau, Kelowna, was fined $50 for driving with no licence. He pleaded guilty.

Allen Barby, Kelowna, was remanded without plea on a charge of driving while impaired. He will appear May 12 for trial. Bail was set at $250 cash.

Mrs. Mary Grace Kerry Funeral Likely Wednesday

Funeral services will likely be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. from St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church for Mrs. Mary Grace Kerry, 72, of 2188 Abbott St., who died Sunday night. Final arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. Kerry was born in Vancouver of a Vancouver pioneer family.

Her father, Alex R. Miller, arrived in the Coast city in 1886, after the noted fire destroyed most of the city.

In 1918, Mrs. Kerry came to the Okanagan where she worked for the Vernon Preparatory School, which was operated by Rev. and Mrs. Mackie.

In 1923, she married Leslie L. Kerry, and in 1930, the couple moved to Kelowna, where Mr. Kerry founded the Capital News. Since retirement, Mrs. Kerry has travelled throughout Europe, the West Indies, Latin America and the Pacific.

However, she was most fond of her lakeside home.

She is survived by her husband Leslie, two daughters, Betty Anne Greenwood and Mrs. Graham Takoff, both of Kelowna, and one son, David, of Vancouver. There are eight grandchildren.

Rev. Bruce Howes will officiate at the service.

Day's Funeral Service is in charge of the arrangements.

Thieves Hit With Force

Thieves were out in force in Kelowna during the weekend and police today are investigating three robberies.

The back seat of a car was stolen from a vehicle parked at the Centennial Hall Sunday evening.

One-and-a-half cases of butter were stolen Sunday about 10:30 a.m. from Dutch Dairies, 548 MacKay St. The butter was taken from a truck.

A home-made go-cart, red with a three hp Briggs-Stratton engine was stolen from a resident at 1025 Laurier Ave. late Saturday.

Arthur T. Olson, Westbank, and Joseph Cundy, Kelowna, were involved in a two-car collision Sunday night at Bernard Avenue and Water Street. Damage was about $1,000; there were no injuries.

George Murphy, Kelowna, lost control of his car on KLO Road at noon Sunday; the vehicle struck a utility pole. Damage was about $400; there were no injuries.

Description Info Needed

Residents who live outside specified fire improvement districts must have the description and location of their land sites when applying to the Kelowna forest ranger station for burning permits.

Local ranger Frank Pearce, said today such information would "help us greatly" in the issuance of permits, which must be obtained through official channels for disposition of rubbish and other winter accumulation. Residents in the fire improvement districts of Rumbold, Winfield, Westbank and Peachland may obtain burning permits from their local fire departments, Mr. Pearce said.

Keeping Forests Green Means Food On The Table

Many weeks are set aside each year by proclamation for special efforts by the people of Canada but one of the most important is National Forest Week that started Sunday and runs through to Saturday.

It is more important to British Columbia because the forest industry is the biggest employer in the province. Keeping the forest green means food on the table, a good living and lets us enjoy today's pleasures.

Some 300,000 Canadians are employed in forestry or forest industries each year and their salaries amount to $1.7 billion. Canada exports annually almost $3 billion worth of wood, wood products and paper, which represents a fifth of our foreign earnings.

These figures don't include the considerable value of our forests to the many Canadians and foreign visitors who travel each year into our wilderness in search of health and refreshment of body and mind.

It is possible to start from Labrador, fly 1,700 miles west to Lake Winnipeg, and then, after a short jog to the north, continue another 1,300 miles to the Pacific coast, passing over almost continuous forest the entire distance.

If we could all make the journey, we would have no doubt of the vastness of our forests nor that they constitute a priceless heritage of natural beauty and a vital source for the renewal of the oxygen in our atmosphere.

We must always keep in mind that our forests are not inexhaustible and that the virgin tracts among them are almost irreplaceable. During the past decade, the land has suffered each year an average of more than 7,000 forest fires which have destroyed two million acres of woods.

The commercial loss from this devastation has been calculated at $15 million, but the annual damage is much greater if we count the loss of wild life, the damage to soil and to watersheds, and the destruction of recreation areas. Forest rangers and other fire fighters risk their lives to combat these blazes.

National Forest Week is observed each year to focus attention not only on the importance of our forests but on the vital part which individuals play in their wide use.

In B.C. our forests are a playground for the tourists and clean campsites and litter-free roads as well as fire prevention depend mainly on co-operation of the travelling public.

In addition, improved general understanding of forest management programs and policy will help in ensuring wise development of Canada's forest resources.

Far too many of our forest fires are the result of cigarettes tossed carelessly from automobiles or of campfires not properly extinguished.

In a statement prepared for the Canadian Forestry Association, Governor-General Michener said, "I hope that National Forest Week will remind all of us who go into the woodlands for pleasure and recreation that we have a duty to preserve them intact not only for ourselves but for the countless Canadians to come, many of whom will make their homes and live their lives in the arboreal forests of the north."

A wide cross section of our society, including individuals, associations, government and industry use this week as a springtime reminder of the importance of our forest heritage.

In Kelowna which is part of the Kamloops Forest District there were 41 fires last year damaging 270 acres. To date there have been two fires in this area, one in the Duck Lake area and one in Westbank. They were caused by careless burning with high winds.

In the province last year there were 2,300 fires of which 884 were in the Kamloops Forest District and the total damage in B.C. was 407,000 acres. The cost of forest fires in B.C. in 1969 was $3,300,000. The cost for the Kamloops district was $1,110,000.

There were 6,383 fires in Canada last year damaging 1,791,000 acres. Officials in the Kelowna district do not expect any letup in forest fires this year.

Proper care in the forest can result in a large reduction of fire losses. Nothing can be taken for granted in the forest.

People Who Moonlight

(Chatham News)

Complaints have been heard recently about people moonlighting. That, of course, is the practice of holding two jobs at once.

The main objection is that by so doing, moonlighters technically do other men, or women, out of a job.

With rising unemployment this is now considered, by some, quite an evil practice.

That is until the cause of moonlighting is studied.

While once upon a time it might have been due to sheer greed on the part of the individual, it has now become a necessity for many others.

If a man wants a good home for his family he has either to moonlight or send his wife out to work.

Many salaries are still well behind in the cost-of-living headlong race and matters are getting worse every day.

As far as specific accusations are concerned two classes of men mostly bear the blame for moonlighting. One is the police. This can be dismissed as a fallacy since police regulations strictly forbid police officers to moonlight.

Firemen is the other class. In this case you have men who wait sometimes all night for something to happen and there is no rule that prevents them sleeping when their chores are done. So they get home in the early morning, rested and full of energy; it is only natural that unless they are bone lazy, they will try to occupy themselves. As a part time employee, a fireman is an ideal worker. He has something valuable to offer and employers are prompt to grab such good men.

Besides he may have a young family and want to do the best for them. If his wife is tied at home with youngsters the only way he can get something extra for them is by taking a part-time job that fits in with his usual employment.

The same might be said of pensioners who work to add some comforts to their daily lives. They are moonlighting rather than resting on their laurels and their puny pensions. Some even give up fair pensions for the privilege of doing something to occupy their time.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

Old Parchment Set Course For West's Early History

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Three hundred years ago the parchment of a royal charter issued in far-off London set the course of Western Canada's early history.

Sir Winston Churchill's words, in 1957:

"Many great merchant expeditions set out in the last four centuries from the shores of these islands and materially altered the history of the lands to which they sailed. Of these, none was more prominent than the Hudson's Bay Company."

The Hudson's Bay Company, the Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay.

It started as a small group of investors in London transformed by royal decree into "the true and absolute Lords and Proprietors" of an unknown region of North America as large as Europe or larger.

Today it is a mercantile giant. Its eight large department stores from Montreal to Victoria, a chain of 27 smaller retail stores and suburban branches, and a northern stores department with 217 outlets rolled up sales of more than $450,000,000 in fiscal 1969.

'BACKSTAIRS' VIEW

The Bay's decision as the big anniversary approached was to look lightly at its past while introducing its robust history to a new generation.

Shipwrights were set to work in Britain building a seaworthy replica of the Non-such, the sturdy ketch that launched the company's fortunes, and after visits to inland ports it will rest as a permanent memorial in the Manitoba Museum of Man and Nature.

Cartoonist Ronald Searle, creator of those spidery monsters of St. Trinian's girls school, was commissioned to illustrate The Great Fur Opera—a soon-to-be-published book by Toronto writer Kildare Dobbs which is described as "backstairs' view of HBC history."

For history and cinema buffs, Toronto film maker Christopher Chappman (A Place to Stand) spent nearly two years producing and directing a film exploring the parallel course of the Bay's and Canadian development.

Charles II's original granting of sweeping imperial powers to a small group of Londoners was easier decreed than done—but in the efforts to find beaver for the felter's guild to turn into hats for the fops and dandies of the time a start was in fact made toward Canadian nationhood.

FRENCH STARTED IT

Credit for this entirely unforeseen dividend belongs to those in credible colonial Frenchmen brothers-in-law—Medard Chouart, Sieur des Groseilliers, and Pierre Esprit Radisson.

They arrived in London probably in 1686, the year of plague and fire, fed up with the bureaucracy of New France which had confiscated all but a small part of a fortune in furs which they had gathered from the Indians in an unlicensed foray into the wilderness.

In later years their allegiance was to run on an alternating current between the royal courts of Paris and London, but it was in London that they made their permanent imprint on Canadian history.

Douglas MacKay, a Bay man himself, wrote in his book, The Honourable Company:

"A more daring pair of unscrupulous international promoters cannot be found in the history of commerce. Glib, plausible, ambitious, supported by unquestionable physical courage, they were the completely equipped fortune hunters."

They knew the brooding forests of the New World as no other white men. They knew Indians—Radisson had lived as an adopted member of a Mohawk family after a war party captured him in a raid on Trois-Rivières in 1651.

Unusual sentiments for the time, but Radisson was to write later of his years with the Indians: "I love these people well."

The Radisson-des Groseilliers story was based more on Indian hearsay than they were prepared to admit—and they tantalized their hosts with a non-existent knowledge of a Northwest Passage leading to the riches of the Orient—but they had grasped the commercially strategic importance of the huge bay named for explorer Henry Hudson.

Mariners with the nerve and navigational skill to thread through Hudson Strait during the short northern summer could sail directly to the heart of the continent, to the river arteries of canoe commerce spilling into Hudson and James bays from the country of the richest furs.

The bonus, barring marine disaster, was a no-portage return to the auction rooms and counting houses of old London.

Two years passed from the time of the Frenchmen's arrival in London before the first expedition was launched with the vessels Eaglet and Nonsuch.

A gale dismayed Eaglet and forced her back but Nonsuch, with des Groseilliers aboard and the Bostonian Zachariah Gilliam as her master, won through to James Bay and returned from the Indian trade with a rich cargo of beaver after an ice-bound winter.

Nothing succeeds like apparent success and on May 2, 1670, Charles II signed the royal charter. His cousin Prince Rupert was named first governor of the company and this vast new unknown domain was named Rupert's Land in honor of the cavalier prince.

BATTLE WAS ON

So the Company of Adventurers was a corporate entity, wrapped in the ermine robes of royal approval. But royal approval wasn't enough.

There was skirmishing with the French even when France and England weren't at war—which wasn't often—and trading posts changed hands in a dizzy musical-chairs game of temporary possession.

For all this, the adventures of the Bay were still hugging the coast despite annual instructions from London to "choose out from amongst our servants such as are best qualified with strength of body and the country language, to travel and to penetrate into the country."

Douglas MacKay again: "If the natives would come to the sea, why push inland? The Englishmen, engaged by the season, had no consuming desire to become intimate with the ways of the forest. Indians were savages to be traded with and distrusted; and the interior was full of unknown terrors."

Yet under its charter the Company had a legal obligation to explore.

ASKED FOR MAP

A case in point was an early parliamentary inquiry into its affairs when a request was made for a map and a definition of boundaries.

The reply: "How or where these lands terminate to westward is unknown." The year: 1749, nearly 80 years after the granting of the charter.

Until the 1749 Commons committee had sent the Bay's only hinterland explorer of true mettle had been Henry Kelsey, whose epic journey to the plains of the Assiniboine Indians had been undertaken more than half a century before.

At the hearing, a tradition of company secrecy was backfired.

When, so long after the event, Kelsey's journal was submitted as evidence of company good faith in fulfilling charter commitments to explore, it was denounced as a fabrication.

But it wasn't. Kelsey in 1690-92 had become the first white man to see the buffalo on the Canadian prairie; as several years before he had been the first white man to see the musk ox.

Kelsey, apprenticed to the Bay at 14 and a continental explorer before he was 21, would be followed in inland adventure by Anthony Henday, ex-smuggler from the Isle of Wight, and Samuel Hearne, ex-Royal Navy.

Kelsey served the Honourable

Company well. A footnote to his story was that, years later, the destitute widow Kelsey petitioned in London for funds to buy clothing for her son. A small sum was granted.

Henday's travels took him to the foothills of the Rockies and the country of the powerful Blackfoot Confederacy. Hearne reached the Arctic overland and witnessed in horror the slaughter of a sleeping camp of Eskimos by his Indian travelling companions.

It was an incident that added another reference point on the map—Bloody Falls on the Coppermine River.

Kelsey, Henday, Hearne—the names seem as one.

But Henday's mission to the Blackfoot followed by more than 60 years Kelsey's amble amongst the Assiniboine. And Hearne's return to Fort Prince of Wales on the Churchill River did not take place until June 30, 1772, "having been absent 18 months and 23 days on this last expedition."

The three of them and a small handful of others were a rare breed of Bay men until the French capitulation in Canada.

OPEN FOR GRABS

The capture of Quebec in 1759 and Montreal the following year left open for grabs the chain of forts the French had built from Montreal to the Rockies along the fur brigade "highway" of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes, and the waterways farther west.

The coureurs-de-bois were withdrawing in disarray, but it was a vacuum soon to be filled by the "Pedlars" from Montreal, the men of the North-West Company.

The Nor'westers: They were freebooting despoilers in many ways but they put a swagger into Canadian history, feverishly building trading posts in the interior and forcing the Bay into abandoning its you-come-to-us approach to the Indian trade.

There were years of enormous profits for the bankrollers in Montreal, but in the end they over-extended themselves.

The shortcut to the Indian trade still lay through Hudson Bay and on March 26, 1821, the Nor'westers were swallowed into amalgamation at terms set by their canny and tough Bay adversaries whose reserves had lasted the longest. In fact, with their yearly division of profits, the Nor'westers didn't know what reserves were.

Along the way to the fur trade union was the bloodbath of Seven Oaks, where Winnipeg now stands, when Cuthbert Grant's Metis cut down Governor Semple of the Red River settlement and 20 others.

FORMED BARRICADE

The settlement had been started by the Earl of Selkirk who, through purchasing a large shareholding in the Hudson's Bay Company, gained a land grant which in the view of the Nor'westers formed a barricade across their canoe routes west.

They deliberately set out to instigate half-breed discontent and succeeded, all too bloodily, in the forerunner to the first Northwest Rebellion of 1869-70 in which Louis Riel formed a provisional government after the transfer of Hudson's Bay territory to the new Dominion of Canada.

As it turned out, the sale of this enormous territory—encompassing the present-day Prairie provinces—provided the resources for the great retail organization the HBC is today—plus its multi-million-dollar interest in land and mineral development.

While roughly 92 per cent of its shareholders are residents of the United Kingdom, and London remains the official head office, day-to-day decisions are made at Canadian headquarters—Hudson's Bay House in Winnipeg. Of the 111C board's 18 directors, 13 are residents of Canada.

Outside Canada, the Bay operates fur auction houses in London and New York. The third auction house is in Montreal.

It remains the greatest fur-trading company in the world.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Danger Mounts On Two Fronts

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Danger escalated sharply in two parts of the world on the same day: in Cambodia, U.S. troops officially began taking part in the fighting; in Egypt, according to the Israeli government, Soviet pilots are flying the fighter planes that protect Egypt.

The U.S. decision to extend its military activities into Cambodia openly, will turn out to have been a wrong decision. It is an attempt to block the Communists' infiltration route into South Vietnam. Since the Americans and the South Vietnamese army do not control South Vietnam itself, it is hard to see how they can hope to exercise such control over a larger area. They may win a temporary tactical success or two, block some jungle paths for a while, but the Communist guerrillas will regroup, harass American and South Vietnamese forces, slip at night through the jungle and resume their attacks. The net result, a few weeks from now, will be that Americans and the South Vietnamese army will have to cover a lot more territory than before at a time when Mr. Nixon is reducing, or is committed to reducing, U.S. troops in Southeast Asia.

It will not take too many reverses in Cambodia—it will not take reverses even just an American presence there for some weeks—before Mr. Nixon begins experiencing the unpopularity which caused General Johnson to leave office. If Mr. Nixon wins re-election in 1972, it will be only because he will have learned ed by then—as Kennedy learned after the Bay of Pigs—not to trust the advice of generals and CIA agents who live in a comic-book world, far removed from reality.

CONFRONTATION

Meanwhile, in the Middle East events may be preparing for Mr. Nixon a confrontation such as the one Kennedy had with Khrushchev over the missiles in Cuba. If Soviet pilots are, indeed, flying the planes of the Egyptian Air Force, flying that is Russian planes with Egyptian markings, and if Israeli pilots start fighting against Soviet pilots where will it all lead?

Mr. Nixon is reconsidering, we are told, the balance of power in the Middle East. Israel says the balance has been disturbed and is asking for sophisticated U.S. fighter planes. If Mr. Nixon gives these planes to Israel, the Israelis will try to knock out the bases of the Egyptian Air Force, killing a lot of Soviet personnel in the process. The Russians would not take this sort of attack on their people lightly. They might riposte to the extent of endangering Israel's existence. Could Nixon let the Russians destroy Israel?

Such destruction would deliver the Arab world into Russia's grip. A confrontation of the super powers is closer in the Middle East than ever it has been. One wonders—after the Cambodian developments—whether Richard Nixon has the coolness and judgment to handle things safely.

Pakistan Spends Heavily On Arms

RAWALPINDI (AP) —

Pakistan plans to spend as much on its military strength during the next five years as it hopes to receive in foreign aid. An outline of its new five-year plan scheduled to start in July shows Pakistan plans to spend 15,000,000,000 rupees, equivalent to $1,500,000,000 at the open market rate, on defence through 1975.

This represents a 21-per-cent increase over the amount spent in the third plan from 1965, when Pakistan and India fought a 17-day war. The third plan expenditure, in turn, was a 125-per-cent increase over the amount spent on defence in 1960-65.

"Gross flow of foreign assistance to the public sector is expected to be of the order of 15,000,000,000 rupees," says the plan guideline. The Pakistanis aim to spend 45,000,000,000 rupees in public money and 30,000,000,000 in private funds on development through 1975.

The plan is Pakistan's most ambitious. In the 1965-70 plan, the previous five-year largest, 25,000,000,000 rupees were spent publicly, and 21,500,000,000 in private investment. The official rate of exchange of the rupee is 4.76 to the dollar. Open market rate outside Pakistan is about 10 to the dollar; within Pakistan, the government gives a bonus of 30 to 40 per cent of the official rate to exporters of specific items sold for hard currency.

CANADA'S STORY

France Sent Agent To Stir Up Trouble

By BOB BOWMAN

When President de Gaulle of France began his Quebec libre campaign in recent years it was suspected that he also sent other agents to Canada to stir up trouble. It wasn't the first time in history that France had done something like this.

In 1793 Britain was at war with the new republican France, and the French government confidently expected that the U.S. would also declare war against Britain. France had helped the U.S. in the American Revolutionary War.

So France sent a special envoy, Edmund Charles Genet, to the U.S. to stir up feeling against Britain. In one of his speeches on May 4, 1793, he said that he hoped to see added to the Stars and Stripes "the beautiful star of Canada." Then he recruited agents in Quebec to distribute Free French pamphlets which read in part: "Follow the example of the peoples of America and France. Break with a government that grows worse from day to day, and has become the cruel enemy of the liberty of peoples... rebellion is your most sacred duty... Canadians, to arms! Call the Indians to your help. You can count on the help of your neighbors and of the people of France."

Genet also commissioned ships in American ports to attack vessels from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

However, his campaign came to an abrupt end. George Washington became fed up with his rudeness and had him recalled to France. In 1794 American troops were sent to the island of St. Helena, where he died of stomach cancer in 1821.

1810—The Royal Canadian Navy was organized.

Kelowna Director Wins Merit Award

By RETHEL STEELE

"I had a wonderful time here . . . you have been kind and friendly and as far as I am concerned the festival has been exciting from a work point of view." So spoke Mrs. Micki Maunsell, adjudicator in her opening remarks to the awards presentations at the Okanagan Zone One-Act Drama Festival Saturday night in Penticton Pen Hi Auditorium.

Mrs. Maunsell did not publicly adjudicate the two Kamloops plays which played Saturday night . . . Harold Pinter's The Lover and William Saroyan's Hello Out There. But invited the public to the private adjudication to be held later.

Mrs. Maunsell also stated that audiences had been a disappointment thus breaking down the so necessary audience-actor participation. You learn from audience participation she explained.

"The work—standard of the acting, directing and staging was different from other places I have been and I have learned that it is not better or worse or smoother . . . but the most important thing is that people want to learn . . . wherever there have been successes, this stops people from learning. I am here to teach rather than to decide on success or failure. I congratulate you for this."

Eight awards of merit were given . . . Bob Elder of Penticton for the stage design of the Penticton play . . . Collect Your Hand Baggage; Bill Bennett as director of the Kelowna play . . . The Waste Disposal Unit; Rita Coe of Vernon for Veronica in The Merchant of Venice; Rod Christensen as Graciano in The Merchant; Mary Huggins as Portia in The Merchant; Doug Huggins as Tubal in The Merchant; John Tupholme of Kamloops as Richard in The Lover; Judy Thorfinson of Kamloops as Emily in Hello Out There.

Best visual award went to The Merchant of Venice. Marie Neilson of Vernon, costume designer for the play accepted the award for the Vernon group. Best production award went to the Pinter's The Lover by Kamloops. The award was accepted by Sheda Behardien the director for the Kamloops company.

This year, on the decision of the zone committee the best director award was cancelled for obvious reasons with the hope that more groups would participate in the future with the purpose of learning rather than competing.

Of the Kelowna play . . . The Waste Disposal Unit Mrs. Maunsell told the group "she did not like or understand the play when she first read it but the clever production brought it to life for her. The set tended to over-power the actors even though it was very effective. The design was too intricate. Harry Jordan as Angelo Lumca was congratulated for a fine job especially since he stepped in at the last minute . . . he is a good actor. Nic Caljouw's voice as Virgil Knockenbier was very good but he needed training in articulation. She thought the actors all enjoyed doing the play and that this helped the whole cast to play well together as a group. Of the three Friday this was the only production that had this sense of togetherness. Ron McKeogh as Homer tended to move too much and as in all the other plays there was too much profile. At times the grouping tended to be in a straight line but could not see how else it could be done due to Virgil's position. She liked how the relation between the characters was brought out and found this lacking in other plays. The funny situation could have been developed more thus getting bigger laughs. On the whole she liked the production very much."

Mr. Bennett stated to this writer the cast all enjoyed the weekend with the fine hospitality as given by Penticton. He also announced the cast will do a courtesy studio performance of The Waste Disposal Unit for the Kelowna audience the first good date the Community Theatre can be obtained. Congratulations Kelowna Little Theatre.

The Pinter play will represent the zone at Vernon in June along with the Shakespeare.

Sunday afternoon I heard the first half of the program as presented in the Community Theatre by the Kelowna City Band under the direction of bandmaster Harry Kirke.

Mr. Kirke has been with the band just the last few months. He has already done a good bit of work with the musicians. Choice of repertoire is such that Sunday afternoon crowds in city park may look forward to music which is tuneful as well as toe tapping. Already the group is playing with some semblance of dynamics and rhythmic flow and phrasing. It was a pleasure to hear the music played in a style other than the usual city band blattancy. This was musical playing.

Mrs. Marj. McAllister, well known Vernon pianist and music teacher, gave a comprehensive reading of Walters' Spiritual Rhapsody piano and band. The balance between soloist and band was excellent.

Let us have more such concerts Mr. Kirke. Keep producing as you are and before you know it the theatre will be filled.

Now the city is subsidizing a conductor it is time the players were given some small remuneration. Playing in a band is not all a labor of love. It takes time and energy as well. How about it city hall?

Four New Ministers Ordained At United Church Conference

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Four new ministers were ordained Sunday at the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada.

Robert Graham Baird, chaplain of the United Church home for girls in Burnaby, John Palmer of Vancouver, Douglas Albert Soles of Armstrong, B.C., and Norman Frederick Wilkison of Victoria wrote the service for their own ordination and Mr. Soles composed one of the hymns.

All four worked on the Vancouver Inner City service project and in the mission field prior to their ordination. An overflow crowd watched the ceremony on closed-circuit television in the lower hall of the Penticton United Church.

Earlier, Rev. M. J. V. Shaver of Vancouver and Rev. D. G. Laird of Nelson were inducted as executive officers on the Metropolitan Council of the Lower Mainland.

Rev. Dr. R. W. Henderson of Vancouver will serve as personnel secretary in education and ministry division.

The five-day conference, which has attracted observers from the Anglican, Roman Catholic, Baptist and Presbyterian churches, ends Tuesday.

On warm hazy days many spots throughout Kelowna and district take on a peaceful atmosphere but few are more serene than the East Kelowna park presided over by this bell tower at St. Mary's An-

Anglican And United Merger Reviewed At Church Meeting

NARAMATA, B.C. (CP) — Dr. Robert Cunningham, president of the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada, said Saturday he is sorry the move toward union with the Anglican Church "is taking place faster where we are forced economically to unite."

Dr. Cunningham told the second session of the conference's five-day annual meeting that while he is delighted with the progress being made in some areas, "I wish there was the same urgency in the larger areas."

He said the union of the United and Anglican theological colleges at the University of B.C. showed a deepening interest in the church, even though congregations are dwindling.

Dr. Cunningham said that while the United Church became smaller within the last year, it is "more versatile, more joyful and more mobile."

"It is less under the tyranny of subscribed formula," he said.

On the question of ministers' salaries, Dr. E. E. Long, chief executive officer of the general council, said clergymen with little seniority received a larger increase last year in anticipation of the ever-increasing cost of living and inflation.

He said a general increase and greater travel allowances will be effective at the beginning of 1971.

The conference has attracted observers from the Anglican, Roman Catholic, Baptist and Presbyterian churches and six members of the Ecumenical Institute of Chicago. It winds up Tuesday.

Five missionaries received official appointments Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sewell of Vancouver will go to Malawi, Africa. Mr. Sewell will serve as hospital administrator while his wife will work

Clausen-Nash Ceremony In Free Methodist Church

White bows centered with yellow daisies marked the pews of the Free Methodist Church, Kelowna, for the April 25 wedding ceremony uniting Esther May Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Herbert Nash and Michael Andrew Clausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Clausen of Rossland, B.C.

The late afternoon ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. H. James, with Betty Baker of Saskatoon, Sask., as soloist. Adding to the beauty of the ceremony was a trumpet solo by Wayne Stewart of Kelowna.

The bride's floor length gown of imported lace over taffeta, featured a lovely three-tiered skirt. Scalloped edges finished the tiers, and the square neckline, Lily point sleeves completed the gown and a beaded head-dress held a white tulle finger tip veil trimmed with daisy medallions. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and centered with red roses.

Matron-of-honor, Mrs. Garry Rieger, sister of the bride of Rutland, wore a light blue gown of peau d'elegance fashioned on princess lines with white daisy medallions on the front seams. A large pleat fell from a self bow at the back.

Bridesmaids, Verna Oliver of Moose Jaw, Sask., Kerry Clausen of Rossland, B.C. and Colleen Spies of Kelowna wore similar gowns. They each carried a single long stemmed rose and white roses embedded in blue tulle formed their head-dresses.

FLOWER GIRL

Flower girl Sheri Hunter of Kelowna wore a similar outfit and was escorted by ring-bearer Greg Mitchell of Richmond, B.C.

Ross Stonehouse, D'Arcy, Sask., served as best man and ushers were Victor Nash, and Dale Switzer, both of Kelowna; Robert Nash, Vancouver, Jon Clausen, Rossland; Herb De Witt, Summerland.

For the reception at the Pentecostal Church hall, the bride's mother received wearing a deep purple tulle suit with white

T.O.P.S. Lose 70 Pounds In 3 Months

OKANAGAN MISSION (Special) — T.O.P.S. Mission hopefuls, one of the five T.O.P.S. (take off pounds sensibly) clubs in the Kelowna area, has been meeting weekly Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Peter Coats, Lakeshore Road. With an average of 17 members attending, the club proudly announced a combined weight loss of 70 pounds since February of this year.

Mrs. Myrtle Appleyard who has recently returned from the provincial recognition day of T.O.P.S. in Vancouver, told the club the astounding fact that the weight loss of the combined B.C. clubs for one year, had been 14 tons!

New members are most welcome and age 11 up to and including grandmothers may join. It is hoped that more teenagers will join the ranks of the six already in the club.

The loss of unwanted, unsightly or excess weight can have a considerable effect for the better, on the physical and mental health of the party concerned.

Those interested are invited to come to the Wednesday night meeting or phone Mrs. Coats at 4-4940 or 4-4394.

Two Women Breaking Sex Barrier On Aquanaut Explorations in USA

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Two women breaking the sex barrier in the aquanaut sex barrier in the United States are confident they'll get along as well as men on the ocean bottom. In fact, they may have better in one respect: they believe they'll find more to talk about.

"It's equally as bad for anyone—male or female," says Ann Hartline, 23.

Mrs. Hartline and Alina Szmant, also 23, graduate students at Scripps Institution of Oceanography, were among five women selected to participate in Tektite 2, a seven-month undersea living experiment in the Caribbean.

The women will live together for 14 days in July at a 50-foot depth in the Tektite habitat, two 18-foot-high steel cylinders, each 12½ feet in diameter and connected by a tunnel.

"I'm just glad to see women considered for science programs," Mrs. Hartline said at a press conference. "It shows girls are capable of doing scientific research."

The two women, both experienced scuba divers, plan to study escape behavior stimuli of coral reef fish.

The women themselves will be studied, psychologically and physiologically.

"Men and women under the same program are equal," Miss Szmant said. "There will be no problem, no more than being anywhere in close quarters with five people for two weeks."

But there may be advantages to being a woman aquanaut, the women said.

"Physiologically, I understand women supposedly have a higher tolerance for lower temperatures," Miss Szmant added. The water temperature drops as the depth increases.

Spring Blossoms Is Theme Chosen For 6th Annual UCW Luncheon

The warm sunshine the past few days has been welcomed by everyone, but more so by Mrs. A. P. Glen and Mrs. Harold Mann, who are in charge of decorating the church hall at First United Church for the sixth annual spring luncheon on May 7. This year's theme, spring blossoms will feature bouquets of cherry, peach and pear blossoms among others.

Food for the luncheon which has become a popular event in this community, will be supplied by members of the Merry Macs, Bankhead, George McKenzie and Francis Botham Units of the UCW.

The first sitting at 12 noon is especially planned for business people who have enjoyed this welcome break in menus in the past. Entertainment will follow the second sitting at 1:15 p.m., with Mrs. George Northam in charge of the program arrangements.

In charge of ticket sales is Mrs. David Morrison. Tickets may be obtained at the church office or from any UCW member.

Alix Locke Honored At Shower

A delightful wedding shower was held on Wednesday evening to honor Alix Locke, of Quebec, who will be marrying Robert Hallett of Sherbrooke, Que., May 9 at St. Plus X Church, Glenmore Street.

Alix is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Locke of Kelview Road, Lakeview Heights.

The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Roger Cottle, Lakeview Heights, who was assisted by Mrs. Frank Singer Jr. as co-hostess.

The lovely and varied gifts were presented in a box decorated to represent the groom's occupation as a laboratory technician.

Games and refreshments completed this happy event.

First Communion Prayer Book Carried By Bride At Wedding

In keeping with the 'something old' tradition, Helen Marie Dorothy Hryniewicz carried her first communion prayer book when she exchanged marriage vows with David Alfred Beauregard on April 25 in the Roman Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception. Spring floral bouquets and candelabra decorated the church for the 4:30 ceremony conducted by Rev. Roche of Armstrong and Rev. R. D. Anderson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hryniewicz, Kelowna and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beauregard of Port Alberni, B.C.

Soloist Rodney Carlson of Kelowna, who was accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Kerkhove of Kelowna, sang On This Day O Beautiful Mother and Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy.

PEARL HEADRESS

A full length gown of white peau-de-soie was chosen by the bride who was given in marriage by her parents. A little standup lace collar edged the neckline and the lace bodice fell into a flowing train. A four layered veil of elbow length tulle, misted from a headress of pearls and aurora borealis. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley, created by her mother.

Borrowed diamond earrings and a blue garter completed the sentimental tradition.

Matron-of-honor, Mrs. Reinhold Rossol and bridesmaid, Ester Tunner and junior bridesmaid, Kim Tomlinson, all of Kelowna, wore similar gowns of A line south-sea blue crepe and carried bouquets of pink wild roses, with orange blossoms and sprays of lily of the valley. Tiny white roses were entwined in their collures.

Wayne Beauregard of Port Alberni served as best man and ushers were: Reinhold Rossol,

MR. AND MRS. DAVID BEAUREGARD (Paul Ponich Studio)

Klaus Schlerbeck and Murray White, all of Kelowna. The bride's mother received for the reception at the Centennial Hall, wearing a coral coat-dress ensemble with contrasting corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a gold and green brocade coat-dress ensemble with ensemble, complemented by a corsage of pink roses.

VANCOUVER ISLAND

The bride changed to a going away costume consisting of a three piece turquoise suit with white accessories for leaving on a honeymoon to Victoria and other points on Vancouver Island.

The newlyweds will reside at 1310 McBride Road, Kelowna.

Pink and white decorations and white candles enhanced the bride's table, which featured the Trucks stop because rules require them to stop every 100 miles or so to check tires, loads and so on. Many roadside eating places are not that great. But take heart! # Shadowing No Concern For Bruin Forward Line

ST. LOUIS (CP) — Johnny Bucyk and others on the Boston Bruins' forward lines could enjoy some easy scoring in the Stanley Cup finals as long as team-mate Bobby Orr can continue to attract a live shadow.

In the first game of the best-of-seven series Sunday, St. Louis Blues' coach Scotty Bowman sent his left wingers to follow the high-scoring Boston defenceman and stop his often-spectacular rushes.

"When they shadow Bobby, it takes one of their forwards out of the game, as far as I'm concerned," said Bucyk after he scored three goals to lead the Bruins to a 6-1 victory.

Bowman switched Jim Roberts, normally a right winger or right defenceman, to left wing where he was the most effective in sticking with Orr, who works at right defence. When Roberts was off the ice, left wingers Tim Ecclestone and Terry Crisp kept an eye on Orr but stayed closer to the play.

"Roberts did a bang of a job," said Bowman. "The others didn't do so well. Roberts is the best at it because he wants to do it."

But while Orr was being watched, he dumped the puck out to his forwards, who had one less opposing forward to face in their attack. And Orr said with indifference: "I could have had lunch out there—no bother at all."

WILL KEEP WATCH
The teams meet again here Tuesday in the second game, and Bowman said he will continue to send a forward in to watch Orr.

"Sure it's still good strategy," Bowman said. "When he's on the ice, he controls the game."

"We're going to try it more," said Bowman, pointing out that the shadowing forwards were given no offensive responsibilities.

Still, Roberts managed the only St. Louis goal when he and Bill McCreary broke into the Boston zone with Orr the only defender back. Orr followed McCreary as he carried the puck in and Roberts took the pass to fire a quick shot past Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers.

The Blues outshot the Bruins 11-9 in the first period, but Bucyk got the first goal with just 15 seconds left when he fired a screened shot from directly in front of goaltender Jacques Plante.

Roberts' goal tied the game early in the second period, but Bucyk scored the winner less than four minutes later when he parked at the corner of the net and converted a quick pass from Johnny McKenzie.

Bucyk's third goal in the third period along with one each from Wayne Carleton, Derek Sanderson and Phil Esposito completed the rout.

deflected shot but it kept him from suffering any laceration.

He was taken to hospital where he was later listed as "satisfactory." Doctors said x-ray results were not immediately available. He was kept overnight for observation.

The Blues also lost defenceman Barclay Plager in the third period after he suffered bruised ribs. He sat out the rest of the game and it was not immediately known if he would be in action Tuesday.

After the 16,715 fans gave Plante a standing ovation on his way to the dressing room, rookie Ernie Wakely took over in the St. Louis nets with 16:03 left in the second period.

Plante had made 13 saves to that point but Wakely faced 21 more Boston drives as the Bruins outshot the Blues 35-29 throughout the game.

Cheevers worked hard stopping the 28 shots to win the praise of coach Harry Sinden, who complained the Blues placed "too much emphasis" on Orr.

"Heck, we've got a goaltender too," said Sinden, "with a little help from a crossbar and a post."

The Blues, who had seven power-play opportunities in the game, always posed a threat to Cheevers but several of their shots went wide or bounced off the goalposts.

Cheevers was particularly sharp in stopping centre Red Berenson.

"He's the most dangerous," said Cheevers. "I always look for him."

Sanderson proved he can be just as dangerous when he barged through the Blues' defence for a clean breakaway while Boston defenceman Don Awrey was in the penalty box.

Sanderson skated straight in on Wakely and fired a quick shot into the top of the net before the goalie made a move.

LITTLE LEAGUE GETS UNDER WAY

Kelowna Little League baseball got under way for the 1970 season Saturday, with Kinsmen meeting Monties at Little League Park.

Kinsmen, relying on a bases-loaded double by winning pitcher Kevin Wolfe in the last inning, took a 5-4 victory from the Monties. Here, Kinsmen's starting pitcher, Eric Blais, who went three innings allowing only a single hit, helps out at the plate with a single in the third inning. —(Courier Photo)

OMBL OPENERS

Kelowna Splits Weekend Games

The Kelowna Carlings may have the number of the remaining clubs in the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League this season, but they may just as apparently have run up against a stumbling block in the West Kootenay Senior Baseball League.

The Carlings opened their 1970 season at home Saturday by dropping a 6-2 decision to the Trail Silver Kings, supposedly the weakest member of the three Kootenay clubs involved with the OMBL in a newly adopted interlocking schedule, but bounced back Sunday and stopped the defending league champion Vernon Luckies 5-3.

The weekend split counted as a win and a loss in the standings, but the club's intent seemed more on gaining an early evaluation of its new personnel, which included a handful of American collegiate imports, than on going all out and winning.

Though the club is high on several of its new ball players it was the play of a trio of holdovers from last season's second-place club which provided the most impressive showing.

Len Tweed, the ace of the 1969 mound staff, displayed his prowess with the bat in both encounters as he was the only Carling to show any resemblance of an offensive attack. The left hand-hitting home native stroked a double and two-run single Saturday then smacked a two-run first-inning homer against Vernon Sunday to help vault Kelowna into an early 5-0 lead.

Righthander Don Mainland recorded the victory against a youthful Vernon squad, checking the Luckies on five hits through six innings, then gave way to Don Rogelstad who pitched the final frame and uniquely struck out four batters in the process, including one on a dropped third strike when the batter reached base safely.

But Saturday, Kelowna lost its own ball game. They handed Trail an unearned run in each of the first four innings, then couldn't capitalize on their own innumerable chances. Six foot, five inch Mike Burdette pitched creditably in his Kelowna debut, but didn't help his own cause as he committed a pair of costly errors.

The Carlings, though collecting but three base hits off the combined offerings of lefthander Dave Fischer and reliever Allan Doherty, were served with 12 walks by the pair but could not make good on a number of scoring opportunities until Tweed lashed his bases loaded single in the sixth inning. They left a total of 14 runners stranded.

Kelowna resumes its busy schedule Tuesday at Elks' Stadium, when they host the Pentiction Molsons, the league's pre-season favorites. Pentiction slammed Trail 18-2 in Sunday's other contest.

CARLING NOTES — Several highly regarded imports, namely Jerry Richardson, Glen Harkie and Bob Goss, missed Saturday's game, but were on hand for Vernon's home opener. Reg Main, the league's premier hurler for the last several seasons, is reportedly ready to rejoin the Luckies, thus mixing retirement plans. He may pitch Saturday's Vernon at Kelowna contest. Richardson's chief asset appears to be an overpowering throwing arm. He's the six foot, two inch Negro outfielder from Seattle, and a recent cut from the Pittsburgh Pirates organization.

SENIOR B SOFTBALL

Willows Win Season's First

The Willow Inn Willows of the Kelowna and District Senior B Softball League relied on five runs in the sixth inning Sunday, to defeat the still winless Kelowna Labatts 11-7.

The Willows, picking up their first win in three outings this season, capitalized on three Labatt errors, and two hits in the big frame, to overcome a 7-0 deficit.

Wally Sehn, relieving starter Larry Yeast in the bottom of the sixth, took the win, blanking the Labatts in one and two-third innings, giving up a single hit and allowing one walk. Ken Leveck was tagged with the loss, giving up all 11 runs, eight hits and five walks, while striking out five Willow batters, before being relieved by Ken Hehn in the sixth.

Centre fielder Wayne North stroked out a two-run homer in the first inning, with lead-off hitter Yeast on first.

The Willows made it 4-0 in the second, on hits by Adrian Rieger, Sehn, and Yeast, while Yeast blanked the Labs in the first two innings, giving up one run in the third on an error and a hit by Leveck.

With two out in the fourth, the Labs struck for the fourth. Doug Chisholm started things off with a base on balls. Ted Swardy got on with a throwing error by the shortstop John Chadwick, while Norm Robinson took three bases on a wild throw by third baseman Ron Pyle, which scored Chisholm and Swardy. Jack Leier followed up with a hit to bring in Robinson.

Pyle rectified in the bottom of the inning, smashing out a double, and driving in two runs, to put the Willows ahead once again, by a score of 8-4.

After an uneventful fifth frame, the Labs went ahead by one in the top of the sixth, with Leveck driving in his second RBI with a single off reliever Sehn, and coming in on an error by Willow first baseman Jerry Keys.

The two runs were to no avail however, as the Willows came up with their big sixth inning barrage.

The winners committed a total of six errors in the ball game, while the Labs gave the boot to four.

Yeast, Rieger, and Sehn were the big bats for the Willows, picking up two hits apiece, while Leveck tagged the opposition for a pair for the losers.

Extra Bases: Ron (Gonny) Pyle has been tabbed the Joe Namath of senior B ball. The 19-year-old third baseman took to the field for the first time this season, wearing white cleats. Says the young infielder, "I just want to show the people that this isn't an old man's league any more."

Adrian Rieger, Willow catcher says that Sunday's encounter was his last behind the plate. Rieger, coming out of retirement after three years absence from the league, has been having trouble with his little finger, and twice Sunday had to have it pulled back into place.

In Vernon, Gib Loseth picked up his first victory of the season, giving up just four hits while going for four for four at the plate to lead the Royal Anne Royals to a 9-7 win over the Kals.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Royals, who have gone undefeated thus far this season.

Confirmed Entries At 65 For Knox Mtn. Hillclimb

Confirmed entries now stand at 65 racing cars for the 13 annual Okanagan Knox Mountain Hillclimb May 17. Another 25 to 30 cars will be accepted so even if there are a few drop outs or break downs during practice, a full field of 80 cars will compete.

An indication of the widespread acceptance of motor sport in the Okanagan is the growing number of locally prepared and driven racing cars that appear each year. It is to be that the calibre of machines and drivers from places like Vancouver Island, the Lower Mainland, Seattle, Spokane, Calgary and Edmonton was so overwhelming that the local members of the organizing Okanagan Auto Sport Club wouldn't bother entering their stock street cars.

Not so anymore. Last year much of the hardware (trophies) was taken by Okanagan drivers and they have launched an all out assault this year with more than a dozen entries through most of the classes.

From Vernon we have Lew Neilson and his "purple mini," perhaps the fastest Cooper S in Canada today, having walked away from the competition in the first two road races earlier this year. Lew was the B.C. "rookie driver of the year" in 1968 and won all his classes in 1969, including Knox Mountain. His close friend Neil McGill of Kelowna also drives a "mini," but in the production sedan class, and is the past president of the OASC and current driving champion, taking fastest time of day against all B.C. competition in most regional gymkhana's.

Taking third in his class last year in his Ford Cortina, Jamie Browne of Okanagan Mission, currently has the engine from his car at a specialty shop in Vancouver searching for even more horsepower. John Morrison will drive his own MGB, which he built during the winter, and Dave Taylor of East Kelowna will drive Morrison's other race car—the orange Lotus Super Seven in which Dave won honors 'st year.

Tom Ueda is back with more experience and power in his Z28 Camaro, but will be challenged by Drew Kitch and his fastback Mustang. Kitch is a stock car veteran and this will be his first sports car type event. Also of stock car fame is John Sharples who had bad luck last year with a newly built MGA sporting a huge Ford V8 motor, but they have had a year to sort out the car and it goes. However, he won't find that class all too easy, as Greg Carter, again of Kelowna, also has prepared an MGA, this one with a Chevy V8.

Kelowna Secondary school teacher Ross Sulliff may not be driving his Valiant this year, because he has been offered a ride in a new Mazda, rotary engined car. His friend, Brian Stovel, who regularly competes in a Volvo, will borrow his younger brother's new Z28 Camaro, a faster way to go. Chief of the start line crew and hill-climb worker for many years, Rick Turton of East Kelowna, couldn't stand the strain of being on the sidelines, and seeing as he is getting married later this summer, so this may be his last chance, he has ordered some sort of "heavy" Chrysler super car, just for the hillclimb.

Yogi Krebiel of Okanagan Mission has the distinction of being the youngest driver (when he was 17) in the 4000 cross country rally and being the only father and son team. He was last year's hillclimb chairman and will compete this year in his immaculate Fiat 124 Spyder.

Spectators will remember the exciting, super fast No. 777 Centennial Mini of Wray Nixon which cleaned up here the past three years, but Nixon has moved over to the Datsun racing team so wife Carole will be driving the mini.

The 17-man hillclimb committee, under chairman Larry Davidson is in full swing; meeting every week to tie up loose ends with only two weeks to go before this Canadian National Championship event. Being on the B.C. Festival of Sports Calendar as the major activity in the Okanagan that weekend assures a record attendance of fans.

Spectators are reminded that Knox Mountain is a city park left in its natural state, and the event has a decided European flavor. So come prepared to do some walking, treat it as a day out in the country, pack a picnic lunch and something to sit on. It will either be very hot or blowing, so wear a coat over summer attire.

Big Crowd Ushers Canucks From WHL Title To The NHL

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Canucks, a collection of veterans and youngsters, have won their second successive Lester Patrick Cup as they ended their 21st season in the Western Hockey League, setting off a 12 record.

The Canucks, who enter the National Hockey League next season, dumped Portland Buckaroos 8-1 Saturday night before a standing-room-only crowd of 15,085 to win the best-of-seven WHL final 4-1.

Len Lunde, with three goals, and Duke Harris with two, paced the Vancouver victory. Murray Hall, Ted Taylor and Andy Bathgate, three players considered expendable by NHL clubs, added the other goals. Hall, traded away by Minnesota North Stars, was the Canucks' top scorer in the playoffs with 10 goals and 10 assists.

Vancouver, runner-up to Portland in 1969, won the cup that year by beating the Buckaroos in four straight games.

RECORDS SET

En route to their runaway first-place finish, the Canucks also set records for:

—Most wins in a season—47. Old record was 44 held by six clubs, including two Vancouver teams.

—Most points in a season—102. Old record, 96, by Portland Buckaroos in 1968-69.

—Most points at home—60. Ties record set by Portland in 1965-66.

—Most points away—42. Old record, 40, by New Westminster in 1951-52.

—Fewest goals lost—17. Old record, 18, by Portland in 1968-69.

—Most goals—334. Old record, 302, by Tacoma in 1949-50.

—Most wins at home—29. Ties record set by Calgary in 1960-61 and tied by Portland in 1965-66.

—Most wins away—18. Ties record held by four clubs, including Vancouver.

—Longest unbeaten streak—18. Old record, 16, established by Calgary in 1958-59.

—Unbeaten at home—23. Old record, 22, shared by Victoria and Portland.

—Unbeaten away—nine. Old record, eight, by San Francisco in 1962-63.

—Consecutive wins at home—23. Old record, 15, by Denver in 1962-63.

The Canucks had a win-loss record of 723-677 and 152 ties in 21 years of regular-season competition.

Firestone Wins Second

Control problem spelled the big difference. Friday in the Babe Ruth baseball, as Firestone took their second straight victory of the season, downing Westlake 8-2.

The winners scored their eight runs on just three hits and 11 walks.

Bill Fahlan was the big gun for Firestone. Offensively, Fahlan picked up a timely hit and came in for two runs, while defensively, he stopped a determined Westlake rally in the fourth, with a sprawling catch after the opposition had loaded the bases.

Bill Gerk took the win for Firestone, relieving Tim Hoffman in the third, and gave up one run, on two hits.

Allan Beck, the first of three pitchers for the losers, was tagged with the loss.

Phils Lose Two Catchers Come Up With Star Subs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After losing two catchers, Philadelphia Phillies came up with an iron-man relief pitcher who can hit and an infielder who plays the outfield and catches.

The Phillies, who lost catchers Tim McCarver and Mike Ryan to injuries Saturday night, came back Sunday to take a doubleheader from San Francisco Giants 8-6 and 13-6 behind the pitching and hitting of Lowell Palmer and the versatile play of rookie Jim Hutto.

Palmer, who worked two scoreless innings in the opener, collected four hits and struck out 10 in 8 2-3 innings of the nightcap. He also stroked three hits, including a three-run double that highlighted the Phillies' six-run sixth.

Hutto sent the opener into overtime with a ninth-inning, game-tying homer. The utility infielder also played left field and behind the plate.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles Dodgers won their biggest offensive of the season to wallop Montreal Expos 13-1. Cincinnati Reds outhit Pittsburgh Pirates 11-7. New York Mets spilled San Diego Padres 3-2 in the nightcap of a doubleheader after losing the opener 4-3 and St. Louis Cardinals and Houston Astros split a twin bill—the Cardinals winning the first game 7-4 and the Astros the second, 8-1. Rain washed out the Chicago-Atlanta game.

... runs for a change

In Saturday's action, Houston defeated St. Louis 3-5, Atlanta beat Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati trounced Pittsburgh 7-2, Los Angeles beat Montreal 7-3, San Diego defeated New York 5-4 and San Francisco crushed Philadelphia 7-1.

MORE RUNS THAN NEEDED

The Dodgers for a change scored some runs for pitcher Claude Osteen, and he probably wished they had saved some for a rainy day. During his first three outings this year, Los Angeles wasn't able to score for their star southpaw.

"It feels great to get some runs for a change," said Osteen, who evened his record at 3-3. "It takes a lot of pressure off that you have in a one or two-run game ... for sure, it was my day."

Elly Grabarkewitz highlighted the Dodgers' 16-hit offense with three hits and five runs batted in.

John Bench lashed a three-run homer and keyed two rallies with doubles to lead the Cincinnati victory. Jim Merritt, who went 6 1-3 innings, picked up his sixth victory—tops in the majors.

Joe Foy doubled home the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning, lifting the Mets to their nightcap victory. The Padres won the opener as Clarence Gaston drilled a run-scoring single in the 10th inning.

Brown Bomber In Hospital After Denver Court Order

DENVER, Colo. (Reuters) — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis undergoes tests and examinations at the Colorado Psychiatric Hospital today following a court order issued Friday by a local judge.

The order, that the 56-year-old Brown Bomber should be held for observation, diagnosis and possible treatment for mental illness, was requested by his 23-year-old son, Joseph Louis Barrow, Jr.

Louis, undefeated world champion from 1937 to 1949, put up a struggle Friday night before agreeing to enter hospital and told reporters: "My family is trying to put me away."

Finally he allowed three sheriff's deputies and a court official to escort him from his Denver summer home to hospital.

His third wife, Martha, said: "My husband is a sick man, but he doesn't know it."

She said that Louis had intermittently undergone voluntary psychiatric treatment since April, 1969.

Under Colorado law, Louis could be kept in hospital under the court order for up to 90 days for examination. Any decision about treatment will be made by a board of medical officers at hospital.

SECRET AFFAIR
A veil of secrecy has been drawn around the Negro boxer since he entered hospital.

Hospital officials, his lawyer, his friends and his family refuse to answer any questions.

Louis himself appears to be the only person willing to talk. As the police waited outside his home Friday he telephoned the sports editor of the Rocky Mountain News and pleaded with him to send a reporter to his home "because they're trying to put me away."

Hospital sources would say Louis even now would like to see reporters but this had been vetoed by his lawyer.

The first inkling Louis might be ill came April 21 when his personal physician, Dr. Robert C. Bennett, angrily denounced rumors that Louis had been taking drugs. Joe had not been himself, Bennett said, but "there is absolutely no truth to this."

Derby Cup Joins Animal Collection

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

The Kentucky Derby cup will join those mounted animal heads in the trophy room of big-game hunter Robert E. Lehmann, thanks to Dust Commander, who shot down 16 other three-year-olds and the odds by winning America's premier horse race.

Now Dust Commander, trained by 31-year-old Don Combs and ridden by Mike Manganello, is expected to go hunting for more of racing's big prizes—the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes, the other legs of the Triple Crown.

After Dust Commander's smashing five-length victory over Raymond M. Curtis' favored My Dad George in the 96th Derby at Churchill Downs, Lehmann said he plans to send the Bold Commander colt after the Preakness and the Belmont.

No three-year-old has won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont since Calumet Farm's Citation in 1948.

Dust Commander, who Lehmann said he purchased as "a cheap $6,500 yearling to go with our expensive ones," was not nominated for the Preakness or Belmont and will have to be supplemented at $10,000 for the former and $5,000 for the latter.

Asked why he had nominated Dust Commander for the Derby, Lehmann, a 49-year-old retired contractor from Lexington, Ky., said, "What's $100?"—the Derby nominating fee. A horse must be nominated to run in the Derby.

JOE LOUIS
... a sick man

"We're trying to get Joe to enter a hospital within the next few days."

Bennett, who has attended Louis for 25 years, said: "It's time I got out there and did what I can to help. Joe's not himself and it's time he realized it."

SUFFERED ATTACKS

Bennett, who is in Denver, said that during the last year Louis has suffered periodic attacks which caused him to become ill.

The attacks that Louis suffered were the latest in a string of medical problems he has suffered in the last two years.

In April, 1968, he was in hospital for several weeks to have his appendix and five gallstones removed.

Then early last year, after fainting on a New York street, it was revealed that he had a heart condition.

Jets One Away From Cup Split Weekend Games

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP) —

Spokane Jets are one win away from the Allan Cup senior hockey championship today after splitting two weekend games with Orillia Terriers.

The Jets, stung 6-2 Saturday by the Terriers, tightened their defence Sunday night and scored a 2-1 victory while allowing only 24 shots on goaltender Seth Martin.

Spokane leads the best-of-seven series 3-2 and could become the first American team to win the title Tuesday night. If the seventh game is needed, it will be played here Wednesday night.

Ron Huston, who has a goal a game in the series, and Gordon Turkil scored for the Jets Sunday.

Rick McClocklin was the only Orillia player to crack the tough Spokane defence and beat Martin.

GOALIE THROWN OUT

The Terriers were forced to use backup goaltender Sonny Pennington for the second time in the series when Gerry McNamara was thrown out of the game along with three other players following a first-period brawl.

It started when Spokane defenceman Tom Hodges mixed it up with Peter Speyer and ended when McNamara, Grant Moore of the Terriers and Ken Gustafson and Dave Toner of Jets were given game misconducts.

The Jets had a 2-0 lead snapped late in the second period when McClocklin took advantage of one of the few defensive lapses Spokane had and

shoulder.

Martin shook off an arm injury early in the scoreless third period to stop the Terriers.

Saturday, three power-play goals killed the Jets before 6,720 fans.

LINE REUNITED

Orillia's line of Grant Moore, Moe Galand and Gary Milroy played together for the first time in the series and started things rolling early.

Milroy and Moore assisted on the Terriers' first goal at 14:30 of the first period and Moore got one himself late in the second.

Speyer, Corby Adams, El Osborne, George Vale and defenceman Doug Kelcher also scored for the Ontario Hockey Association Senior champions.

Huston and Gustafson replied for the Jets.

Alternate goalie Dave Cox, in his first appearance since Spokane won the western final against St. Boniface Mohawks, blocked only 14 shots while McNamara and Pennington combined to stop 38.

Baltimore Can't Believe It

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore Orioles couldn't believe it when they lost the World Series to New York Mets last year and they couldn't believe Sunday's 4-3 ninth-inning loss to Minnesota Twins.

"Our whole club has the feeling that we're not supposed to lose to anyone when we come to the park," said manager Earl Weaver after Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer lifted the Twins to victory and gave them the weekend series two games to one. "When something like this happens, we can't understand it."

Those were the only untainted runs off Jim Palmer. The Twins scored twice in the sixth on a double error by second baseman Dave Johnson. Merv Rettenmund's eighth-inning homer gave the Orioles a temporary 3-2 lead.

"It's unbelievable Palmer could lose," said catcher Andy Etchebarren, another non-believer. "I've never seen him throw any better."

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit Tigers shaded Chicago White Sox 6-5, New York Yankees rallied twice to sweep Milwaukee Brewers 8-7 and 4-2, Oakland Athletics beat Washington Senators 3-1 before losing 6-4 and Cleveland Indians downed Kansas City Royals 6-3.

In Saturday's action, Oakland downed Washington 6-3, Kansas City edged Cleveland 4-3, Chicago beat Detroit 3-2, Minnesota defeated Baltimore 4-2, New York beat Milwaukee 7-6 and Boston Red Sox defeated California Angels 8-4 before their Sunday match was rained out.

ERROR-FILLED GAME

Home runs by Willie Horton and Al Kaline powered the Tigers past the White Sox in a sloppy game with the teams committing seven errors. Detroit fumbled away three runs and the Sox two before Fred Lasher, the third Tiger pitcher in the ninth, closed out the game with the bases loaded and one run in.

Roy White's two-run double brought the Yankees from behind in the seventh inning of their nightcap after Gerry McNertney's pinch two-run homer gave Milwaukee a 2-1 lead in the top of the inning.

The Yanks trailed 5-0 in the opener but Bobby Murcer triggered a pair of three-run rallies with a homer and then a bunt single and Gene Michael blasted three hits, each good for an RBI.

New York won the opener with three runs in the sixth on Murcer's bunt, consecutive triples by Danny Cater and Thurman Munson and Michael's double.

Ed Stroud and Mike Epstein crashed two-run homers in the Senators' nightcap triumph, with Epstein's snapping a 4-4 tie in the seventh. Reggie Jackson's homer and run-scoring doubles by Don Mincher and Felipe Alou augmented for the Athletics runs in the first game.

Oakland starter Blue Moon Odom reinjured his ailing right elbow while warming up before the first inning of the opener but the umpires made him pitch to one batter. Odom retired Ed Brinkman on a grounder, then Roland Fingers took over and hurled five-hit ball the rest of the way.

Graig Nettles batting a meagre .125 at game time, slammed a three-run homer in the sixth inning to wipe out a 3-2 Kansas City lead and spark the Indians' victory. Lou Piniella hit a two-run shot for the Royals.

Jack's Call A Wrong Number But His Golfing Was Right

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus lost the popularity contest and the call from Washington was a wrong number, but he pocketed $20,000 Sunday in a thrilling sudden-death victory over Arnold Palmer in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

"When I found out they wanted Arnie," said Nicklaus who answered the Washington call first, "I just went back out to the green and picked up the championship trophy."

Nicklaus got the first-prize cheque and the trophy from golf great Nelson himself after a classic 37-hole head-to-head confrontation with Palmer, 10 years his senior.

A tap-in birdie putt on the first extra hole gave Nicklaus his first ever sudden-death win over old nemesis and good friend, Palmer, who won $11,000.

Then came the call from Washington. Vice-President Spiro Agnew was on the line. Agnew wanted to speak to golfing buddy Palmer.

"I had played golf with him recently and he wanted to talk about today's round," Palmer said. "There wasn't any slight to Jack intended."

YELLING CROWD

The out-mannered Nicklaus wasn't miffed. He had played all day with a crowd of some 15,000 following his threesome, most yelling and applauding for Palmer.

"It was like Texas and Ohio State playing football in Texas," Nicklaus laughed. "There are few Buckeyes down here."

The crowd was estimated at more than 40,000 and about a third dogged the heels of golf's biggest names. They jostled, shoved and yelled.

"Arnie came to me on the sixth green of the second round and said 'I think it's getting out of hand,'" Nicklaus said. "But you are going to have that time to play with Arnold."

Arnie is a very popular fellow. I don't mind the people Western Open.

yelling and rooting just as long as they don't get rude."

Nicklaus, who got a line-of-sight drop in the rough because of a television tower obstruction on No. 18, said one fan yelled "Awww" when the ruling was made.

"I told him 'I was sorry,'" Nicklaus said. "I really shouldn't have taken the drop, I guess. I might have made a par."

Nicklaus missed par and the last hole, missing a 21-footer by inches as Palmer knotted it with par. They then went into the sudden-death playoff on the 18th hole.

On the par 5, 555-yard No. 15, Nicklaus blasted a tremendous drive over the corner of a lake, whistled his approach 267 yards pin high and two putted. Palmer took par and it was over.

PLAYED OFF PREVIOUSLY

Palmer and Nicklaus had met in playoffs twice previously but never head-up in sudden death. Nicklaus won the 1962 United States Open in a playoff with Palmer. In 1963, Palmer beat Nicklaus and Julius Boros in another 18-hole playoff for the

Growing Signs That Fight
On Inflation Now Hurts

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Business Editor

There are growing signs that the government's fight against inflation is starting to hurt.

A string of company heads have told their annual meetings in recent weeks that it is almost impossible to forecast the future accurately because of the sluggish economic climate and the uncertain results of the fight against inflation.

The prices and incomes commission, the government's agency in the fight to control prices, now has instituted a regular check of price increases in major Canadian stores.

It already has managed to delay projected price increases for a number of products, ranging from peanut butter to automatic washers.

It has rejected requested increases for copper and aluminum and has about 30 other price increases under preliminary investigation.

Consumers, too, are apparently worried about the future.

PLANNED CREDIT CHECKS

The government still intends to bring in consumer credit controls, as announced in its budget earlier this year, which will require minimum down payments and specified repayment periods for instalment buying.

Slowing profits have already been reported for some large companies in first-quarter reports, and most of them said they expect things to get worse

unless there is a loosening of the controls.

Car sales, for instance, are far behind last year's. And a major manufacturer is closing down the color television picture tube part of its business because sets aren't selling as well as expected.

The Canadian Appliance Manufacturers Association reports a drop of almost six per cent in sales of appliances during the first quarter of the year. Sales of refrigerators, for instance, were down more than 10 per cent.

President G. Allan Burton told the annual meeting of Simpsons
Ltd. that consumer confidence has been "considerably shaken"

by a weakening stock market and other factors.

He expected "significantly lower" earnings and said "we are in a period of business dollums if not clear-cut recession."

INDEX DROPS

Using a base 100 for 1960
when the survey started, the index now stands at 71, down from 83 in the last quarter of a year ago.

One of the few bright spots is that there is a growing opinion that the inflationary spiral is beginning to slow down.

Consumers, too, are apparently worried about the future.

Montreal Jrs. To Meet Weyburn
In Memorial Cup Final Series

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Junior Canadiens open defence of the Memorial Cup championship Wednesday night against Weyburn Red Wings in the best-of-seven final series.

The Junior Canadiens completed a three-game sweep of their best-of-five eastern final against Quebec Remparts Sunday night with a convincing 7-1 triumph before 18,571 fans.

Richard Martin led Montreal with three goals, with single goals going to Jocelyn Guevre-mont, Gilbert Perreault, Richard Lemieux and Robert Guineard. Michel Archambault scored for the Remparts.

The highly-touted Remparts were simply no match for the Junior Canadiens, Ontario

Hockey Association Junior A champions. Except for the second period in Saturday night's game won by Montreal 9-7 in Quebec City, the Canadiens forechecked and outskated
Quebec consistently.

"They are a very nice team for their league," commented
Phil Wimmer, general manager of the Junior Canadiens. "There was a lot of talk about how they were going to beat us before the series started, but we showed them."

"My guys played as well as they had to against Quebec," added Roger Bedard, coach of the Montreal team. "On Saturday night, they were leading us
6-3 going into the final period and you saw us come back, they couldn't hold us."
